

Broadmead TRADITION

From independent living to assisted care to rehabilitative services and skilled nursing care, Broadmead offers the home, the surroundings, the care, and the lifestyle that's right for you — all with your needs and discerning standards in mind.

Person-Centered Care

Located inside Broadmead's scenic campus, Taylor Assisted Living is designed specifically for residents needing assistance with activities of daily living, while also offering a relaxed environment to pursue individual interests and activities.

We believe in person-centered care — care that is tailored to the resident's personal preferences and needs. Residents make their own day-to-day schedules, from when to rise, where to dine, when to socialize, and more — all while enjoying the personal attention and specialized service they may require.

The Stony Run Friends Meeting founded Broadmead as a way to serve the needs of older persons. It opened in 1979 as a private, not-for-profit, continuing care retirement community. Broadmead continues to operate under the guidance and ownership of a Quaker-guided, not-for-profit corporation.
